9 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

The Client acknowledges that:

- a) QCSE is the owner or licensee of copyright, know-how and other intellectual property rights in the Certification and Assessment Procedures and any associated documentation; and
- b) No right, title or interest in the Certification and Assessment Procedures or that documentation is transferred to the Client under the Contract.

10 LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

- 10.1 QCSE excludes from these terms and conditions all conditions and warranties implied by statute (including the Trade Practices Act, 1974), general law or custom except any implied condition or warranty the exclusion of which would contravene any statute or cause any part of this clause to be void ('non-excludable statutory condition').
- 10.2 QCSE's liability to the Client for breach of any express provision of these terms and conditions or any non-excludable statutory condition (other than an implied warranty of title) is limited at QCSE's option to:

The common law in the Commonwealth of Australia allows QCSE to exclude itself from professional indemnity insurance required to compensate a client for liability on the part of QCSE. You should be aware of this position and consider taking out professional indemnity insurance referred to in this clause that covers your organisation against this possibility.

13 NON-SOLICITATION OF PERSONNEL

The Client agrees not to solicit any QCSE officers, employees, agents or contractors during the contract or for six months after the termination of the Contract. This agreement by the Client is specifically focused on offers of employment or contract to the QCSE employee.

16 APPEALS

The Client may have rights of appeal against a decision made by QCSE. Please direct any enquiry to QCSE directly.

17 ASSIGNMENT

- 17.1 QCSE may assign all or any of its rights under the Contract.

- 21.1 A party giving notice or notifying under the Contract must do so in writing:
- a) directed to the recipient's address for correspondence as nominated in the Application or varied by any notice; and
 - b) hand delivered or sent by prepaid post or email to that address.
- 21.2 A notice given in accordance with clause 21.1 is taken to be received:

 - c) if sent by email, when the sender's email system generates a message confirming successful receipt of the message.

22 HEADINGS

Headings are for ease of reference only and do not affect the meaning of these terms and conditions.

23 FORCE MAJEURE

No party is liable for any failure to perform or delay in performing its obligations under the Contract if that failure or delay is due to flood, fire, earthquake or other occurrence beyond that party's reasonable control. If that failure or delay exceeds 60 days, the other party may terminate the Contract with immediate effect by giving notice to the other party.

- (f) ensure that no certification document, mark or report, or any part thereof is used in a misleading manner;

- (h) in making reference to its certification in communication media such as documents, brochures or advertising, comply with the requirements of the certification body.

26 SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS FOR OHS CERTIFICATION ONLY

The Certification Body regulator requires that any client certified to ISO 45001 must agree to notify QCSE without delay of the occurrence of a serious incident or breach of regulation necessitating the involvement of the local regulatory authority (e.g. WorkSafe SA in South Australia). Acceptance of the QCSE quotation is accepted as evidence that this agreement is in place.

If the Client's OHSMS significantly fails to meet the certification requirements during the Client's certification cycle, the certification may be subject to suspension or termination.
